TASK : 1

Instagram Digital Audit – Zomato

Brand: Zomato

Platform: Instagram

Audit focus: Content quality, engagement, branding, and hashtags.

3 Strengths

1. Creative and engaging content: Zomato uses attractive food visuals, relatable humour, and trending topics to capture attention.
2. Strong brand identity: Its recognizable red-and-white branding helps users identify the brand across promotional posts.
3. Interactive communication: Relatable captions and food-related content encourage users to like, comment, share, and tag friends.

3 Weaknesses

1. Overdependence on promotional content: Repeated discounts and ordering messages may make the feed feel sales-focused.
2. Limited informational content: Some posts may not provide useful information about nutrition, restaurant choices, or food quality.
3. Hashtag effectiveness: Generic hashtags such as #Food and #Foodie may face heavy competition and may not always reach a targeted audience.

TASK : 2

Media Plan for Foodster Product Launch

Campaign objective: Create brand awareness and acquire first-time customers for Foodster, a fictional food delivery app.

Total budget: ₹1,00,000

Digital channel	Budget	Allocation
Instagram Ads	₹40,000	40%
Google Search Ads	₹30,000	30%
YouTube Ads	₹20,000	20%
Influencer Marketing	₹10,000	10%
Total	₹1,00,000	100%

Channel-wise justification

1. Instagram Ads – ₹40,000

Instagram will be the primary channel for reaching local food lovers through Reels, Stories, and attractive food creatives. Geo-targeted ads and first-order discounts can encourage app installs and initial orders.

2. Google Search Ads – ₹30,000

Search ads will target users actively searching for terms such as “food delivery near me” and “order food online.” This budget focuses on capturing high-intent customers who are already looking to order food.

3. YouTube Ads – ₹20,000

Short video ads can introduce Foodster, demonstrate its ordering process, and communicate launch offers. YouTube will help build awareness among audiences who may not yet know the brand.

4. Influencer Marketing – ₹10,000

Local food creators can share Foodster's launch offer and demonstrate the ordering experience. This can build trust with relevant audiences and encourage first-time trials.

Expected outcome: Build awareness, drive app installs, and generate first orders. Actual results will depend on location, targeting, creative quality, competition, and conversion rates.

TASK : 3

2. Don't miss the mega sale! Explore amazing offers across top categories. Buy now before your favourite deals end.

Keywords targeted: Online shopping, mega sale, online deals, shopping offers.

Call to action: Shop Now / Buy Now.

TASK : 4

Expected Clicks and Conversions for a Myntra-Style Campaign

Given data:

- Total ad budget = ₹50,000
- Average CPC = ₹10
- Expected conversion rate = 2%

Step 1: Calculate total clicks

Formula:

$$\text{TOTAL CLICKS} = \frac{\text{AD BUDGET}}{\text{AVRAGE CPC}}$$

Calculation:

$$= \frac{₹50,000}{10}$$

Step 2: Calculate expected conversions

Formula:

$$\text{Conversions} = \frac{\text{clicks} * \text{conversion rate}}{100}$$

$$\text{Calculation} = \frac{5,000 * 2}{100}$$

= 100 Conversion

Total ad budget	Expected clicks
₹50,000	5,000
Conversion rate	Expected conversions
2%	100

Conclusion: With a ₹50,000 budget, an average CPC of ₹10, and a 2% conversion rate, the campaign is expected to generate 5,000 clicks and 100 conversions.

AI-generated responses

Headline 1

Headline 3

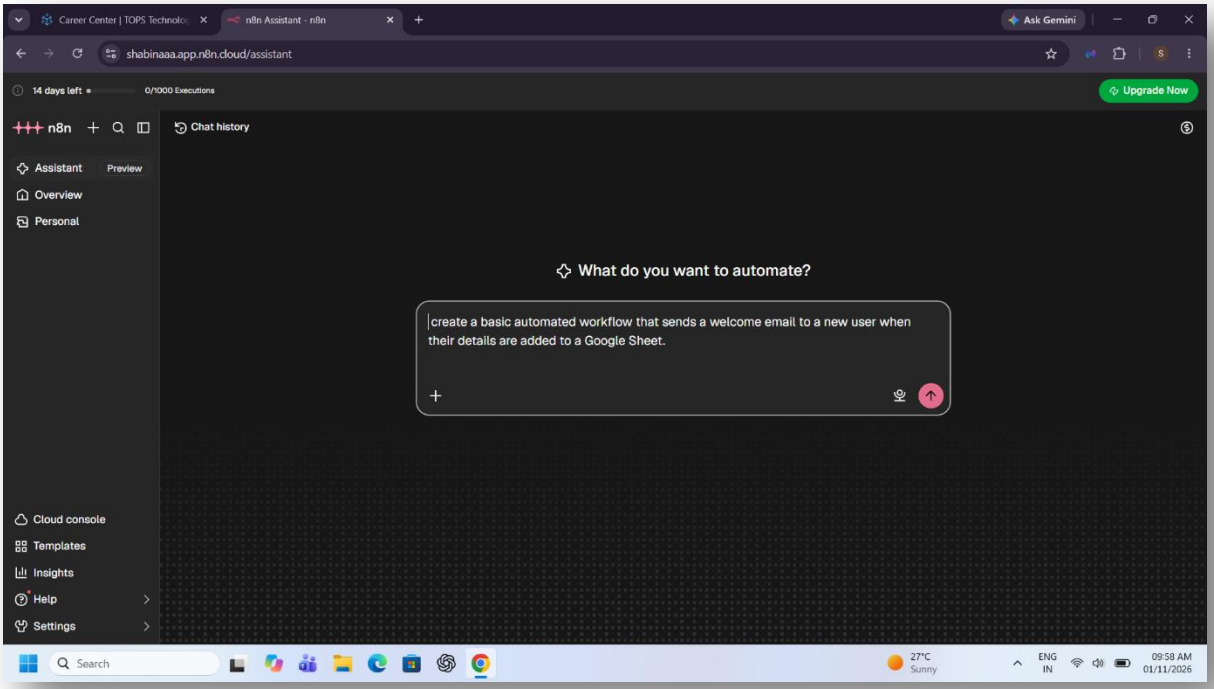

Pay Smart, Save More – Use Paytm UPI!

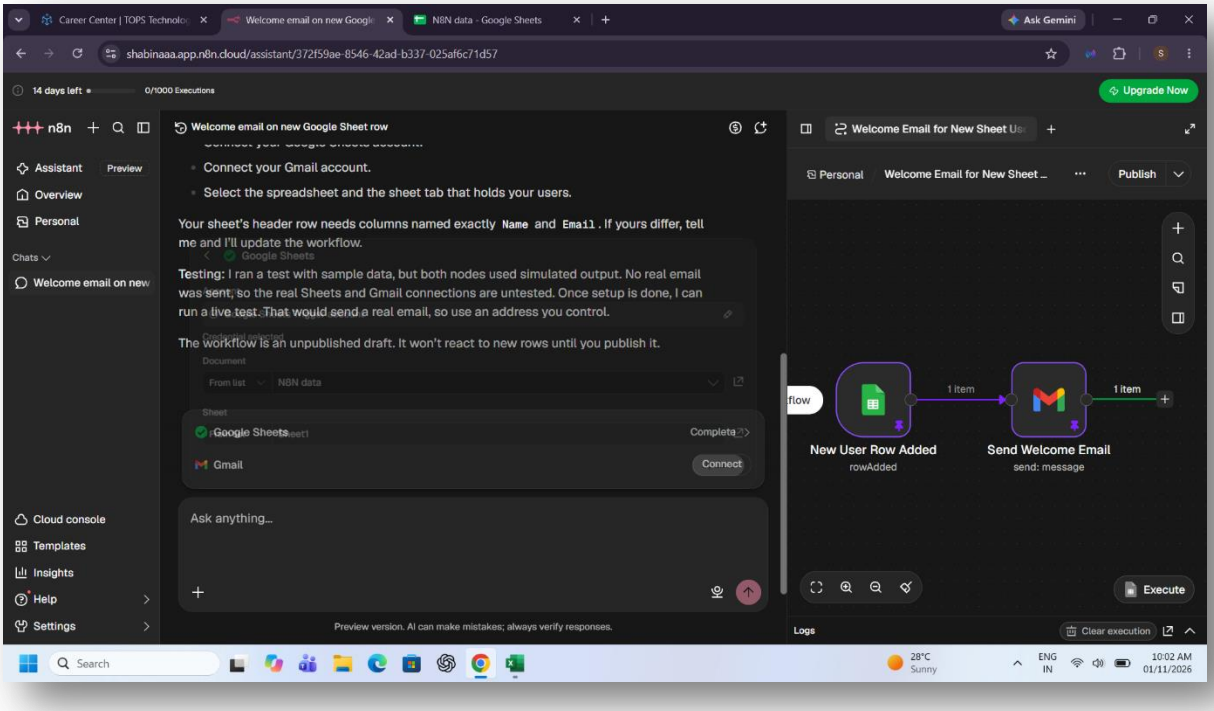

Selected headline

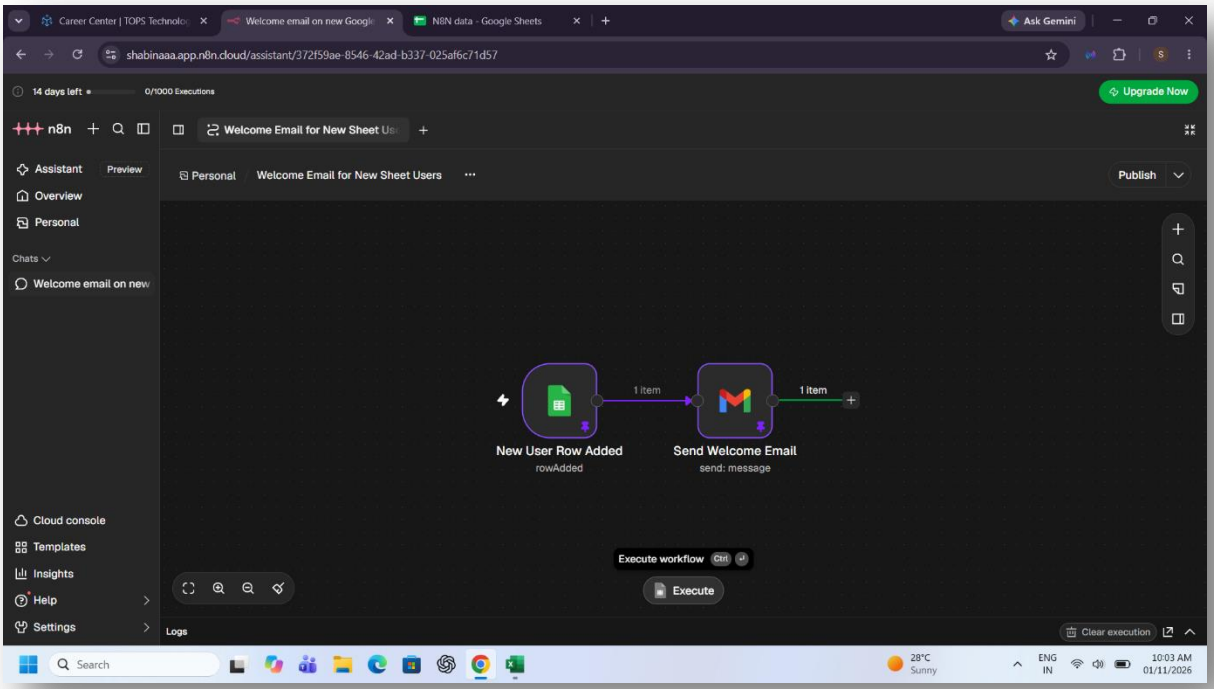

Pay with Paytm UPI & Get Cashback!

Reason for selection: This headline clearly communicates the payment method and the cashback benefit. Its direct call to action makes the offer easy to understand and may encourage users to try Paytm UPI.

Task 1:

Welcome email on new Google Sheet row
Connect your Gmail account.
Select the spreadsheet and the sheet tab that holds your users.
Your sheet's header row needs columns named exactly Name and Email. If yours differ, tell me and I'll update the workflow.
Testing: I ran a test with sample data, but both nodes used simulated output. No real email was sent, so the real Sheets and Gmail connections are untested. Once setup is done, I can run a live test. That would send a real email, so use an address you control.
The workflow is an unpublished draft. It won't react to new rows until you publish it.

Task 2:

Zomato-Style Food Delivery Campaign: 5 Catchy Email Subject Lines

1. Five catchy subject lines

No.	Subject line	Creative approach
1.	🍕 Your cravings called. They want Zomato!	Humour
2.	Hungry? Happiness is just one tap away!	Emotional appeal
3.	Don't just scroll. Order something delicious!	Call to action
4.	🍔 Your favourite food is waiting. What's the delay?	Urgency
5.	Warning: This email may make you VERY hungry! 😋	Curiosity

2. Best subject line

🍕 Your cravings called. They want Zomato!

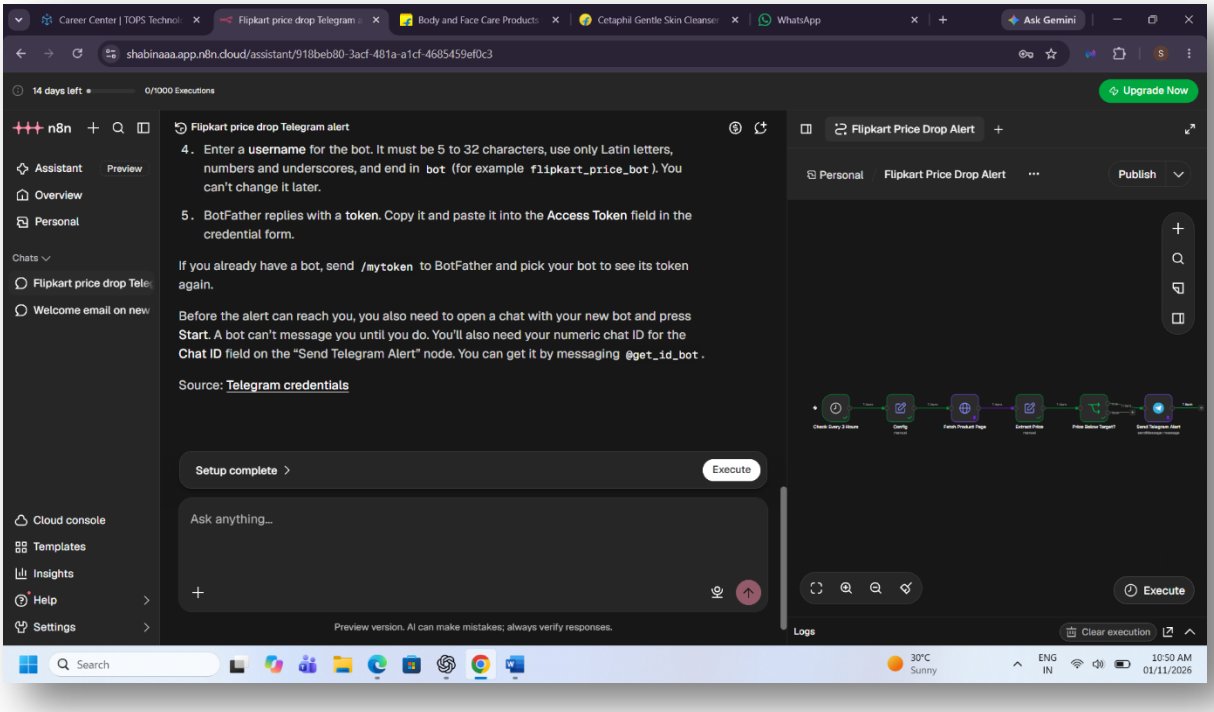

Why I selected it:

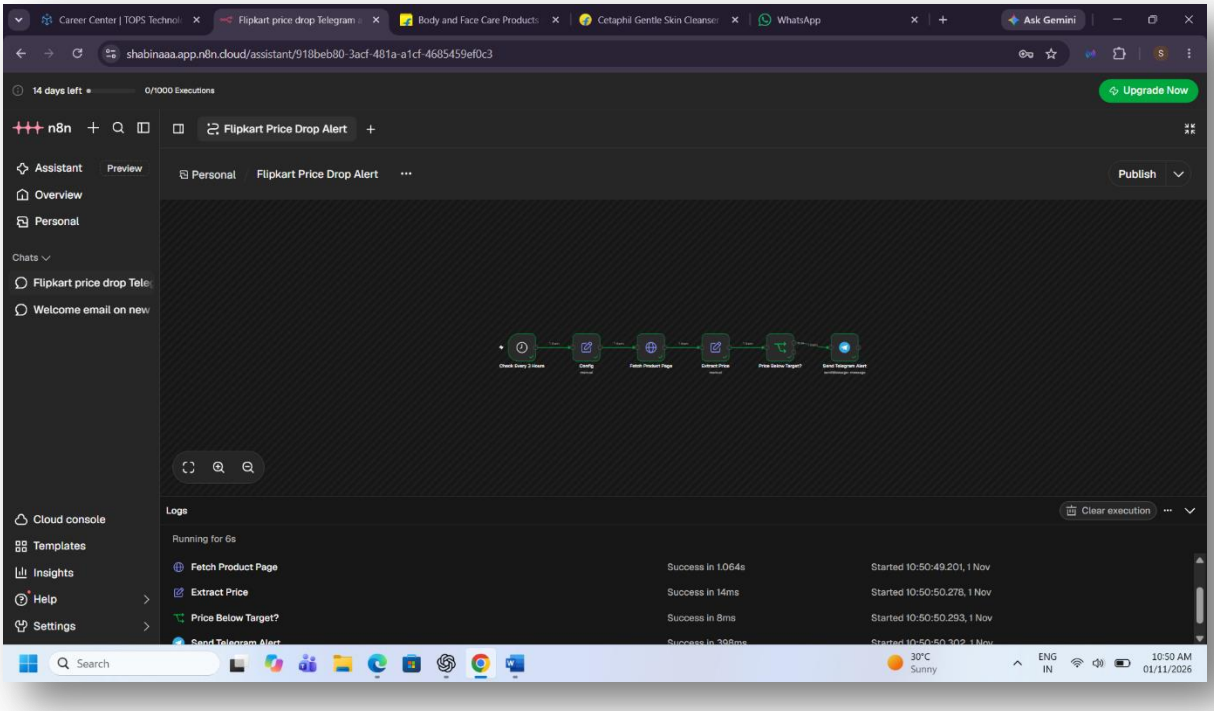

1. Catchy and memorable: The personification of cravings makes the subject line interesting.
2. Creates curiosity: It encourages customers to open the email and discover what's inside.
3. Brand connection: Mentioning Zomato directly strengthens brand recall.
4. Relatable: It connects with the everyday experience of feeling hungry and wanting delicious food.
5. Conversational tone: It sounds friendly, fun, and engaging rather than like a traditional advertisement.

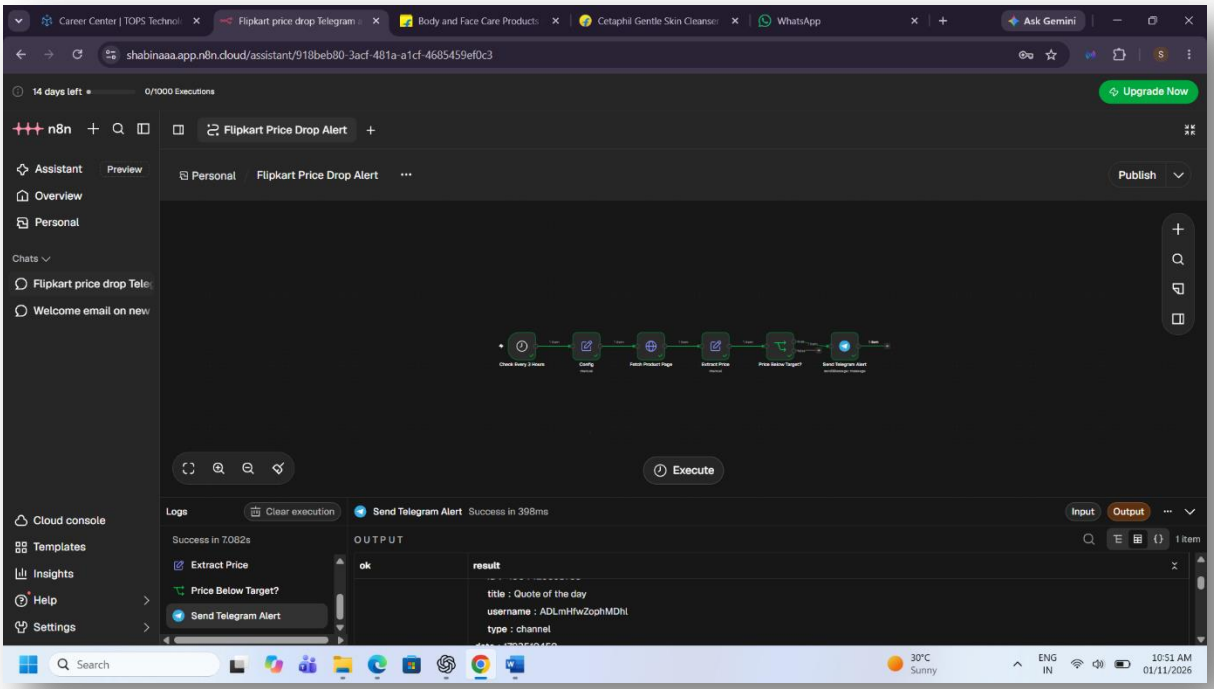

3. Conclusion

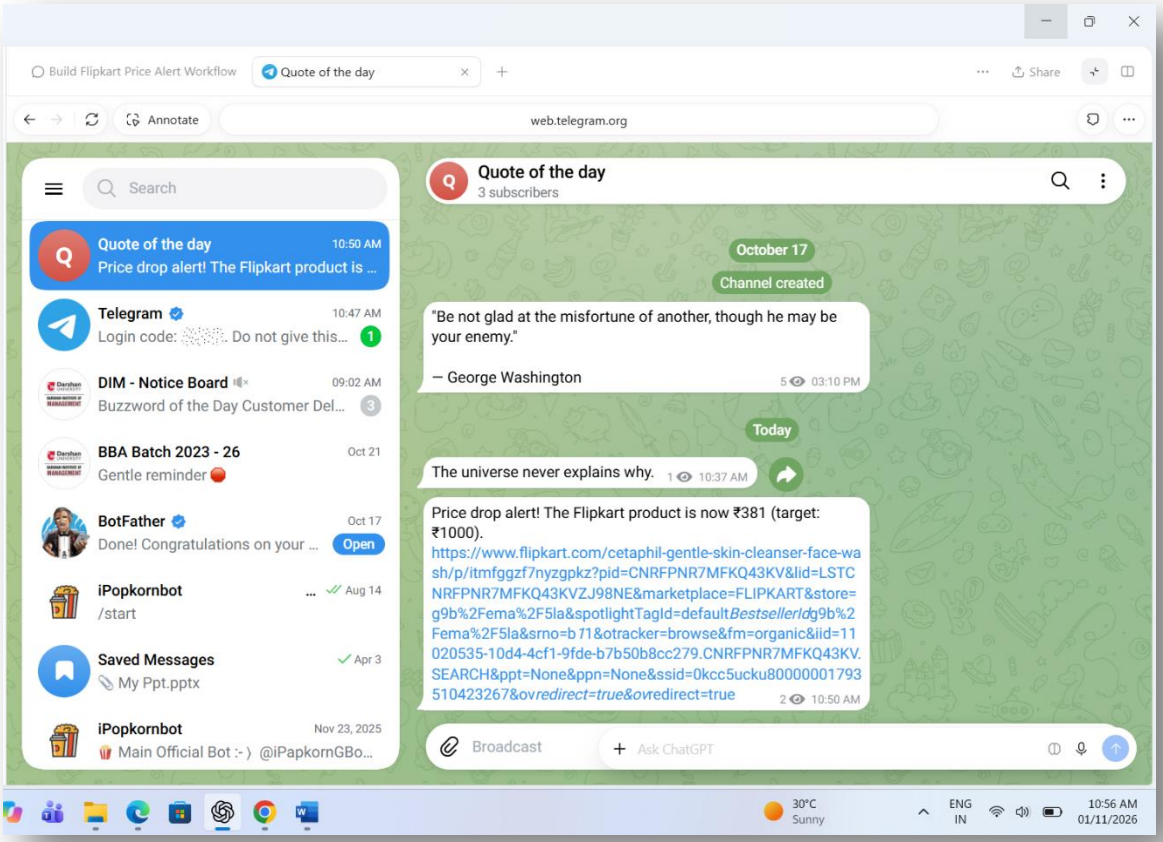

The subject line "🍕 Your cravings called. They want Zomato!" is the best choice because it combines humour, curiosity, and brand recognition. It can help attract attention in crowded inboxes and encourage customers to explore food offers and place orders.

Task 4:

Error logging to Google Sheets
Telegram Error node appends a row to the Google Sheet.
Each logged row has these columns: timestamp, workflow, failed_node, error_message, error_details, execution_id and context. context holds the recipient email or the product URL.
Setup still needs your input in the setup panel:
Spreadsheet: pick the spreadsheet for the error log in each log node. Create a tab named Error Log with those seven column headers in row 1.
Google Sheets credential for the email workflow: connect a Google Sheets credential on Log Email Error. The Flipkart workflow already uses your existing "Google Sheets account".
